

Chaperone Policy

You are welcome to be accompanied by a trusted friend or relative to your appointment if you wish, particularly if you feel you may need additional support in communicating with medical staff.

You may also request the presence of an independent healthcare professional during your appointment. This is known as a chaperone.

! If a chaperone is not available at the requested time, your appointment can be rescheduled.